

16 DAYS OF

Activism

TO ELIMINATE VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN & GIRLS

Nov 25

Encourage (call/email) your elected officials to prioritize supporting services to those impacted by gender-based violence.

29

Encourage healthy relationship skills in your friends/children!

3

Encourage your workplace Human Resources Department to seek out training about how to support employees who may be victims of domestic violence or sexual assault.

7

Encourage your local school district to teach consent and healthy relationship skills starting in elementary school.

26

Share information about gender-based violence in your networks via social media, book discussions, inviting a speaker, etc.

30

It's Giving Tuesday! Donate to your favorite local non-profit!

4

Write letters to editorial boards when you notice the media minimizing gender-based violence through the use of victim blaming language.

8

Speak up if you notice someone being mistreated because of their identity. Register for Chimera if you want to learn how!

27

Ask questions at work if you notice that leadership excludes or has different expectations for women.

Dec 1

Participate in passive awareness activities, like wearing ribbons, buttons, t-shirts, or other symbols for the various awareness months that highlight gender-based violence.

5

Learn more about the intersections of oppression and sexual violence.

9

Volunteer your time with a local agency that supports victims and survivors of gender-based violence.

28

Encourage your elected officials to prioritize supporting services to those impacted by gender-based violence.

2

Ask your faith community leaders to find ways to effectively support those who may have experienced gender-based violence.

6

Encourage your workplace to adopt violence prevention and intervention policies that explicitly include policies about how gender-based violence in the workplace will be addressed.

10

Participate in active awareness activities, like marches, protests, and other events to promote gender equity and call for an end to gender-based violence.